Warsaw, December 17, N. S.

AN Expreſs is come hither from the Ruſſian General Uruſſou, with an Account of his having attacked the Corpiques, near Kolno, forced the Works which they had made in a Wood, and defeated their General Paskowski, killing 200 Men upon the Spot, and taking two Captains and ſome others Priſoners, with one Piece of Cannon. Another Detachment had purſued General Steinflicht, but without Succeſs, he having retired to Saremba, which was the chief Place of Refuge of the Corpiques. The Prince of Heſſe Hombourg waits only the Return of a Courier which he has ſent to Petersbourg, to lead the Troops that are under his Command out of this Kingdom.

Warsaw, Dec. 21, N. S. The Palatin of Ruſſia Prince Czartorinski left this Place the 19th Inſtant to go to his Eſtate in the Country. The Palatin of Volhinia, who came not long ago from Konigsberg, received the 19th Inſtant an Expreſs from thence, with the News, that King Staniſlaus had thanked the Poles that remained with him for their Attachment to him, and adviſed them to return into their Country, and to make their Submiſſion to King Auguſtus, for that the French King had deſired him to return into the Dutchy of Bar.

Konigsberg, Dec. 23, N. S. On Advice that the Corpiques having been defeated by the Ruſſian Troops had fled for Safety into the King of Pruſſia's Territories, General Katte, Governour of this Place, went to the Frontiers ſome Days ago; where having cauſed the Corpiques to be diſarmed, he ſent them, with King Staniſlaus's Conſent, back into Poland. Which done, the Ruſſians who had purſued them into his Pruſſian Majeſty's Territories, retired.

Vienna, Dec. 17, N. S. An Expreſs from Count Kevenhuller, General of the Imperial Forces in Italy, arrived here ſome Days ago with an Account, that the ſaid General having had a Conference with the Marſhal de Noailles, an Agreement was ſettled between them for a Proviſional Ceſſation of Hoſtilities between the Imperialiſts, and the Spaniards and Piedmonteſe. On the 14th that Courier was diſpatched back again with the Emperor's Approbation of the ſaid Agreement, but with a Limitation of it to the 24th of next Month, judging that Interval of Time ſufficient for the Courts of Madrid and Turin to declare whether they will accept the Terms ſtipulated by the Preliminaries between his Imperial Majeſty and the moſt Chriſtian King.

Hague, Jan. 3, N. S. The Marquiſs de Fenelon having received an Expreſs from Paris, did this Morning communicate to the States by their Preſident the Preliminaries of Peace between the Emperour and the French King; and the like was done by the Emperour's Miniſter. Yeſterday arrived an Expreſs ſent by M. van Hoey, their High Mightineſſes Ambaſſadour at Paris: The States of Holland are to reaſſemble here next Week, and the Great Penſionary is in ſo good a State of Health that it is likely he will be preſent at their Meeting. It is adviſed from Leeuwarden, that the Princeſs Royal and the Prince of Orange, who went from hence about a Week ago, are arrived there in good Health.
